

Paul Dobrescu

Paul Dobrescu, PhD, is the founder of the Faculty of Communication and Public Relations in the National University of Political Studies and Public Administration, Bucharest, Romania. Between 2008 and 2012, he acted as Rector of the University. During his long and productive academic career, he published numerous books and articles, and coordinated the academic and research activities of the Faculty Communication and Public Relations. Some of his most recent published book titles include: Crizele de după criză. O lume fără busolă și fără hegemon [The Post-Crisis Crises. A World without a Compass and Without a Hegemon] (2016); Un deceniu cât un secol. Secolul lumii emergente [The Century of the Emerging World. Development with a Vengeance] (2014); Lumea cu două viteze. Puterile emergente și țările dezvoltate [A Two-Speed World. Emerging Powers and the Developed Countries] (2013); Violența Globalizării. Asaltul asupra puterii americane [Mischievous Globalization. The Assault on the American Power] (2010). Paul Dobrescu's books have been translated and published at prestigious international publishing houses: „The Century of the Emerging World. Development with a Vengeance” – UK: Cambridge Scholars Publishing (2017), „Les crises post-crise. Un monde sans boussole ni hégémonie” – France: L’Harmattan (2017), „La ruse de la mondialisation. L’assault contre la puissance américaine” – France: L’Harmattan (2015).